Pitching to the C-Suite

How to pitch your ideas and yourself to get the resources you need

Being able to deliver a clear, impactful, actionable pitch is an essential business communication tool that should be part of every manager's toolkit, but it is not a skill that is often taught.

Managers and executives who can craft clear, engaging, targeted messages are more likely to get approval for new projects or increases in budget to hire new talent. They are also more likely to get noticed by people with power and find themselves in line for promotion.

During this lively, engaging and practical workshop you will be introduced to Barbara Boldt's unique method of structuring and delivering a winning pitch. Your attendees will discover how to:

- Determine the goals of their pitch
- Structure their pitch for maximum persuasive power
- Deliver their pitch with confidence and conviction

Barbara provides a pitch template that participants can use over and over to construct pitches that capture and hold attention, stimulate interest, and motivate the audience to act.

Experience the power of communication that is created with intention and delivered with authority.

Communicating with Confidence

How to make a positive first and lasting impression

Communicating with confidence is an essential leadership skill. Being able to deliver a message assertively and powerfully is the foundation of being able to persuade and inspire others. It enables you to gain support for your initiatives and standup for yourself and your values.

Confidence is an inside AND an outside job. You may feel confident, and it shows in your behavior, but enacting confident behaviors can also make you FEEL more confident.

During this engaging, highly interactive workshop, your participants will:

- Discover what is confident or not about their current way of communicating
- Identify behaviors that build or sabotage confidence
- Understand the role voice plays in communicating with confidence
- Participate in exercises that help them build confidence from the outside in

Experience the exhilaration of being in control of how you are perceived.

Drawing on her two-plus decades of experience coaching global managers from over 35 countries, Barbara's approach ensures that each participant receives strategies to solve their unique challenges.

Here's what people are saying:

"Barbara's workshop on creating a perfect pitch is pure gold. The program helps you with a lot more than just a pitch. The workshop helped me understand who my audience is, crystallize my offer, and explain it most effectively. Barbara has broken the process down into small steps that make it simple and manageable."
